Previewing for the featured Artists
Tuesday October 6th, 10 am - 5 pm

In celebration of the de Young museum's 125th anniversary, the Fine Arts Museums of San Francisco are hosting The de Young Open, a juried community art exhibition of submissions by artists who live in the nine Bay Area counties: Alameda, Contra Costa, Marin, Napa, San Francisco, San Mateo, Santa Clara, Solano, and Sonoma.

Artists were encouraged, though not required, to address the concept of "On the Edge," which references not only the Bay Area's geographic location on the Pacific Rim, but also the region's historical reputation for leading-edge, cutting-edge, or edgy culture and creativity. Recently, the concept of living on the edge has taken on an especially poignant meaning during the COVID-19 crisis.
